Vocational Education Now and in the Future

*Howard H. Rahmlow
Vocational Supervising Teacher*

As each of us goes about his daily work and has communication with his fellow workers we become more and more aware of the great changes that are coming to pass in our industrial world. We are living in a period of time where more changes are taking place in our daily life than in any comparable period in history. Not only are more changes taking place but they are happening at a more rapid pace than at any other time. These rapid changes not only affect our standard of living but they are changing our present vocations and those for decades to come.

In addition to the technological changes taking place there are other important factors to be considered in the picture of employment. Mr. Abraham Standler, Chief, Division of Manpower Evaluation, U.S. Department of Labor, points out that during the next ten years we can expect a population increase of about 30 million and of these a large number will be job seekers. New jobs will not equal the number of new workers so added competition for deaf workers for the jobs available will result. Again, Mr. Stahler states, "There is clearly a trend toward a rising demand for workers with the higher levels of education and skills and away from unskilled and lesser skilled occupations." These facts along with others, clearly point out to educators that vocational training for the deaf will have to take on a higher level of skill and knowledge if our deaf workers are going to be able to compete with the hearing in the industrial world.

What does this mean to schools such as ours at CSDR and what are the implications for future vocational education for the deaf? A question such as this was the basis for a week long workshop at Knoxville, Tennessee, during the week of October 18-23. I was privileged to be a member of this workshop along with approximately one hundred other men and women from such areas as educators of the deaf, deaf persons from state and national organizations, representatives from industry, vocational rehabilitation, labor unions, U.S. Department of Labor and leading universities. It would be impossible to include in a school paper article such as this all of the meaningful material that came about as a result of this workshop. However, I shall set forth some of the highlights.

As a basis for ideas for needed improvement, expansion, or changes in vocational education for the deaf, a common understanding was needed as to the present status in our schools. There appeared, after some discussion, to be more or less general agreement that most of the so called vocational programs in schools for the deaf are really pre-vocational and that schools for the deaf should probably emphasize secondary academic work to a greater degree. It was further generally agreed that true vocational training can only come in other schools after the students have left the regular schools for the deaf as now established. This feeling was supported by such thoughts as: "deaf students need more time for academic training to better fit them for the rapidly developing technology that makes unskilled jobs less available"; "deaf students, for the most part, are not vocationally mature at the ages they are in our present schools and thus are not ready or in many cases able to take instruction at a true vocational level"; and "since most deaf students have an educational lag of from two to four years, as much time as possible needs to be spent on academic training to help them fill in this gap. A good job can not be done in both academic and vocational training at the same time due to the slowness with which teaching the deaf must be geared. Vocational training can best be postponed to post-secondary level when the students will be more educationally and voca-

Now Hear This . . .

Parents, where were you on November 1 when your organization had its first meeting? This school has over 500 pupils enrolled, and yet parent attendance at the November P.T.C.A. meeting numbered around 50. This is an alarmingly small number of parents for your first meeting of this school year. I am very concerned and would like to point out some of the reasons why.

First of all, this is your children's school, yet few of you take the time to attend the organization meetings through which you could be of some help. Next, do you have any idea of the time and work your Executive Board spends in setting up interesting programs for your benefit? For this last P.T.C.A. meeting your Board met three times, and some of the members came from San Diego and Los Angeles for these three one-hour meetings. Then, consider the guest speaker, Dr. Edgar Lowell; he would have better spent his time at home with his family. His talk concerned federal legislation and how this will affect the future of your children.

As a parent group you have an obligation to both your children and to your Executive Board which you elected. You can easily fulfill these obligations by attending the remaining three P.T.C.A. meetings and supporting your Executive Board.

"Star Song" to be Dramatic Club's Christmas Presentation

Star Song, a one act Nativity play by special arrangement with Samuel French will be presented by the CSDR Dramatic Club on Wednesday, December 16 at 7:30 p.m. and on Thursday, December 17 at 8:00 p.m. Both presentations will be in Social Hall.

For the first time the language of signs will be used throughout the play accompanied by an interpreter.

Star Song is the story of what happened in a small, crowded inn on the road to Bethlehem one star-lit winter night many centuries ago. The mistress of the inn and the travelers are so busy with their personal problems and worries that they do not sense the great and holy event which is taking place in the stable behind the inn. Only Siti, a slave, and Nuna, a small, crippled slave, are prepared for the great event when it happens.

The leads in the play are: Roman soldiers, Tony Hackett and Howard Sultan; the innkeeper, Pat Moran; Rachel and Arod, travelers, Nancy Burrell and John Daigle; Barshan, a cruel trader, Burton Quartermus; Nuna, a small, crippled slave, Sharon Russell; Siti, an Ethiopian slave, Jewel DeWitty, and Octavia, a widow of a Roman general, Laura Dinndorf.

The following students have supporting roles Judith Joiner, Kathleen Russell, Patsy Carlsen, Mike Bielik, Alice Sargent, Jay Shopshire, Rodney Nunn, David Conti, Jack Lamberton, Leroy Harper, Dale Ice, and Tony Caloroso.

Preceding and following the play Christmas carols will be recited by the chorus: Harvey Bradley, Gregory Decker, Gary Jeffus, Jack Jensen, Mike Nunn, Robert Pealatore, Dale Ritter, Ronald Sclaro, Michelle Craig, Sheri Crawford, Jeannette Estes, Karen Kleiman, Monica Lane, Jennifer Markee, Connie Paine, and Bonnie Schwartz.

The Dramatic Club extends a cordial invitation to all parents to attend the Christmas program.

Six Make Olympic Team

Six CSDR students have been selected for the United States Olympic Team. They will compete against the world's best athletes at the International Games for the Deaf, Washington, D.C. June 7-July 3, 1965.

There are four boys and two girls. The girls, Linda Parker and Patsy Carlsen, will compete in the women's 800 meter run. Mike Mahoney will race in the 1500 meter run. Keith Gamache is entered as an alternate in the broad jump. Tom Green and Greg Decker will swim the 1500 meter freestyle. Tom will also compete in the 400 meter freestyle.

Each member received a letter from Art Kruger, I G D Team Director, congratulating him on his appointment to the team. Each was cautioned that consistent performance and adherence to a good training program must be maintained or he would be replaced. There should be no concern about Riversiders failing to carry out a training program, since they have proven a willingness to crawl out of bed in the wee hours of the morning to practice.

There are eight former Riverside students also selected for the Olympic squad. Dick Ramborger will throw the javelin. Rene Gamache will jump in the triple jump. They are attending Riverside City College. David Dobrovech, recently graduated from RCC, will be running 800 meters. Bill Ramborger is entered in four events: 110 meter high hurdles, board jump, triple jump, and javelin. Charles Marsh has two events, the triple jump, and the broad jump. Tom Henes will run in the 800 and 400 meters. Bob Skedsmo will be considered as a candidate for the team if he meets further requirements. Kendall Doane will be swimming in the 1500 meters freestyle. The latter five are now attending Gallaudet College.

Other former CSDR students with hopes of being chosen at a later date are Bobbi Hutcheson (tennis), Dennis Kaufman (tennis), and Greg Brown (wrestling).

The cost of sending each athlete has been estimated at $500.00. A fund raising campaign is being sponsored locally by the Riverside PTCA. To date $500.00 has been banked. It is hoped that at least $3,000 will be raised to cover the cost of our six students. Any additional funds will be used to support former CSDR students.

It is indeed a tribute to the Physical Education Department that such a large group of athletes will represent CSDR at the International Games for the Deaf. Let us be assured that no athlete will be deprived of an opportunity to go due to lack of funds. All donations may be mailed to Mrs. Jason Decker, 5589 Fargo Rd., Riverside, PTCA Treasurer, or to Mr. William Thornton, 2929 Sandberg St., Riverside.

Riverside Chapter CAD To Give Play for IGD

Please reserve the date of Saturday evening, April 10, to see the play "Arsenic and Old Lace" to be presented in sign-language by members of the Riverside Chapter of the California Association of the Deaf at the University Heights Junior High School auditorium on Eighth Street in Riverside. Interpreters will speak for the hearing public.

Heeding a call to raise funds to send qualified athletes to the International Games for the Deaf, to be held in Washington, D.C., July, 1965, the local chapter decided to present a play. There are many talented deaf actors and actresses among the members of the chapter and the school staff and this will be an opportunity to see them in action. Advance sale of tickets will start in January. Admission will be $2 for adults and a lower rate for students and children. A percentage of the proceed will go to the IGD Fund. Your interest and cooperation will be appreciated.

Gallaudet College Notes

Walter Cook, Derry Keeshan, Sue Cameron, and Carol Visser are the CSDR graduates new to Gallaudet this year.

The reporter is glad to inform you that the Class of 1963 from Riverside High School has happily survived freshman hazing!

Bobbi Hutchinson is engaged to William Baim, also a California boy.

Etta Smith and David Perkins are majoring in Library Science and doing well.

Sue Cameron has enjoyed visiting friends in Washington, D.C., and seeing the sights with them.

CSDR's newest students at Gallaudet have visited President Kennedy's grave in Arlington Cemetery, the Lincoln Memorial, the Washington Monument, and the Capitol. An interesting fact they learned was that there are 56 steps leading up to Lincoln's statue. Abraham Lincoln was 56 years old when he died!

Some of us will see you at Christmas time!

A Lot of Fun on the Ben Casey Set

Last July 21, my parents took me to the Desilu Studios, where Becky Fogarty, seven other deaf children, and I were to be in a Ben Casey segment. I met Vincent Edwards and Sam Jaffe, who are the stars of the show. The show was about a deaf girl, whose father thought that she was mentally retarded. The deaf girl was played by a deaf girl, June Reed.

The other deaf children and I acted in the last part of the show. We got paid $100 for each day we were there. I think that it was a very easy job. When the film was completed, we all went to a studio party there. Some newspaper photographers and reporters were there and they kept us busy for about an hour. Afterwards we had refreshments. When the party was all over, my parents and I met Lucy Ball, who doesn't have red hair. She has bright orange hair.

Friday, September 18, my parents and I went to the preview of the show. I thought that the show was very good. It was shown on TV on October 26.

BOOK REPORT

TITLE: Hercules and Other Tales from Greek Myths

AUTHOR: Olive E. Coolidge

This book includes favorite Greek stories from many centuries ago. Their stories are immortal because we still enjoy reading them.

The first story is about the youth Hercules. He was put to bed at night with his twin brother, Iphicles, in a cradle made of a bronze shield which their father, Amphitryon, had won in battle. Their mother, Alomene, rocked them gently until they fell asleep. She went away. Hercules wrestled two dark snakes which tried to coil around him. He killed the two snakes!!! He became a child-hero!

Hercules grew to manhood. King Eurystheus, who ruled over the city of Mycenae, was jealous of the great hero and gave him the hardest tasks, "The Twelve Tasks of Hercules." So he did all 12 of them. He was still alive and safe! And the king gave up his throne. Hercules came to the throne.

I was thrilled to read this book but I could write a long hundred page report! The stories seemed like they were true but they were really Greek myths. I loved it.

Vocational Education Now and in the Future tionally mature." It was also recognized that many an adult deaf person, now gainfully employed, would be in need of retraining due to either a need for upgrading his employment or due to having his present job made more technical or even done away with through automation.

With these ideas in mind the workshop is making recommendations to the Vocational Rehabilitation Administration, Department of Health, Education and Welfare. It will be pointed out that the need for action is urgent and that a comprehensive committee to study and act on the recommendations should come from all areas of education concerned with the deaf, from deaf organizations such as the NAD, from government bureaus concerned with the employment and training of the deaf, and from industry and universities concerned with vocational education. The ideas presented by the workshop for the consideration of this committee will include:

- a. The establishment of a national technical school.
- b. Establishment of four regional vocational schools.

In connection with these two items a study is to be made as to whether these schools should be for deaf students alone or if they should be integrated with deaf students working with hearing students and other handicapped persons as well. Very good reasons were pointed out on both sides of the question.

- c. Encourage better use of existing vocational and technical schools by making use of special teachers in these schools to work with the deaf. It might, also, be possible to have a section developed in these existing schools for the deaf alone, having their own teachers for those subjects where trained teachers of the deaf are necessary and integrating with the hearing students for skill and work training. This type of program would be somewhat like the present program at Riverside City College.
- d. Possible establishment of a comprehensive facility related to a major university located in an urban industrial area and offering work in the following areas:

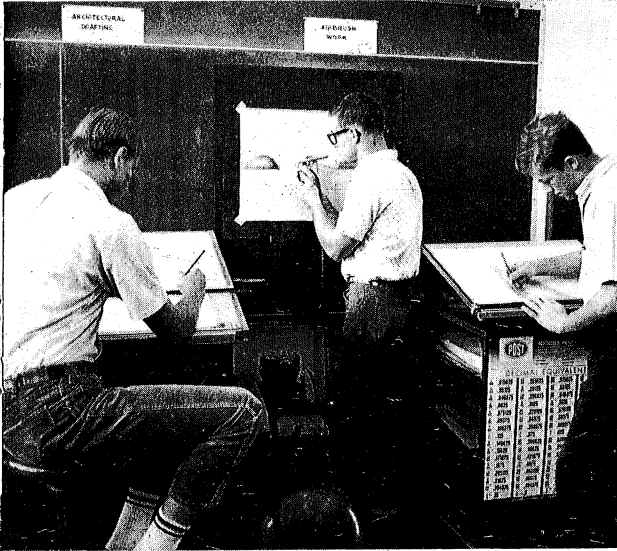

1. Technical Education.
2. Vocational Training.
3. Remedial or Upgrading Training
4. Cooperative Work Experience.
5. Vocational Teacher Preparation.
6. Vocational Counselor Preparation.
7. Adult Education Programs.
8. Research in Vocational Education for the deaf.

e. Establish training centers and courses to train vocational teachers of the deaf, update training of present vocational teachers, train special vocational rehabilitation counselors to work with the deaf and to offer courses to labor and management to better acquaint them with the problems of deafness.

f. Improvement of "Ancillary" Services which would include all the various auxiliary services for the deaf such as: vocational counselors, vocational aptitude testing devices, psychological services, and many other areas not directly connected with teaching in the classroom.

Do all these plans and suggestions mean that our vocational programs as presently found in our schools for the deaf will be done away with? Definitely no. In general, programs of vocational education in the schools of the nation will need strengthening and improvement and under no condition is it implied that existing programs will be curtailed. Emphasis may be changed or terminology altered so that our present programs will be known as "pre-vocational" education. This will mean that the primary goal of our existing programs will be to impart to boys and girls good work habits, an understanding of responsibilities of employee to employer, good safety habits, and a basis of common skills upon which further vocational education and training can be built after graduation from our schools. It should be understood that a program such as this would, as does our present vocational program, provide sufficient training to many students so that they may go directly from our schools on to basic jobs. But again, as is currently true, many will go on to further training in advanced schools for vocational training to complete their acquisition of skill for the more highly technical job opportunities that are constantly becoming more and more available as the less skilled jobs are becoming less available.

Vocational Shops

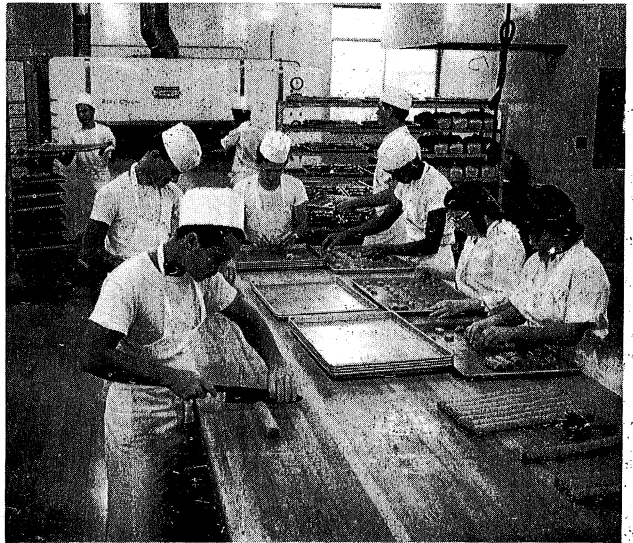

1—ART-MECHANICAL DRAWING

Instruction in basic commercial art, mechanical drafting and in portrait and still life drawing as well as a foundation in ceramic design and production are included in our art program.

Our cabinetmaking-upholstery shop is really two shops in one. In the cabinetmaking shop boys learn to operate all the standard wood-working machines as well as acquiring basic hand skill operations in the construction of cabinets and furniture frames. In the upholstery shop basic instruction is offered in all the various aspects of upholstery work.

5—GENERAL ELECTRICITY

Our program in basic general electricity has for its major emphasis electronic assembly. In addition small appliance repair and electric motor reconditioning is offered. This course serves as a basis for further study in this field in schools such as Riverside City College as well as providing workers for basic industry.

6—GENERAL METAL

Although the major emphasis in the general shop is that of autobody repair and repainting, a good foundation is offered in other metal trades such as electric arc welding, heli-arc welding, acetylene welding, sheetmetal work and basic wrought iron work.

7—GENERAL PRINTING

Our general printing shop provides training in hand composition, machine composition, job presswork, automatic presswork, floorwork and binding. Although our main function is to provide training to fit students to go into printing as an occupation, our shop has a daily output of printing jobs to meet the needs of the school.

8—GENERAL SHOP

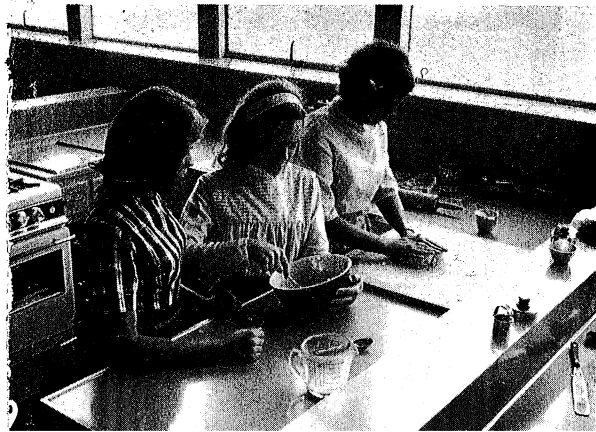

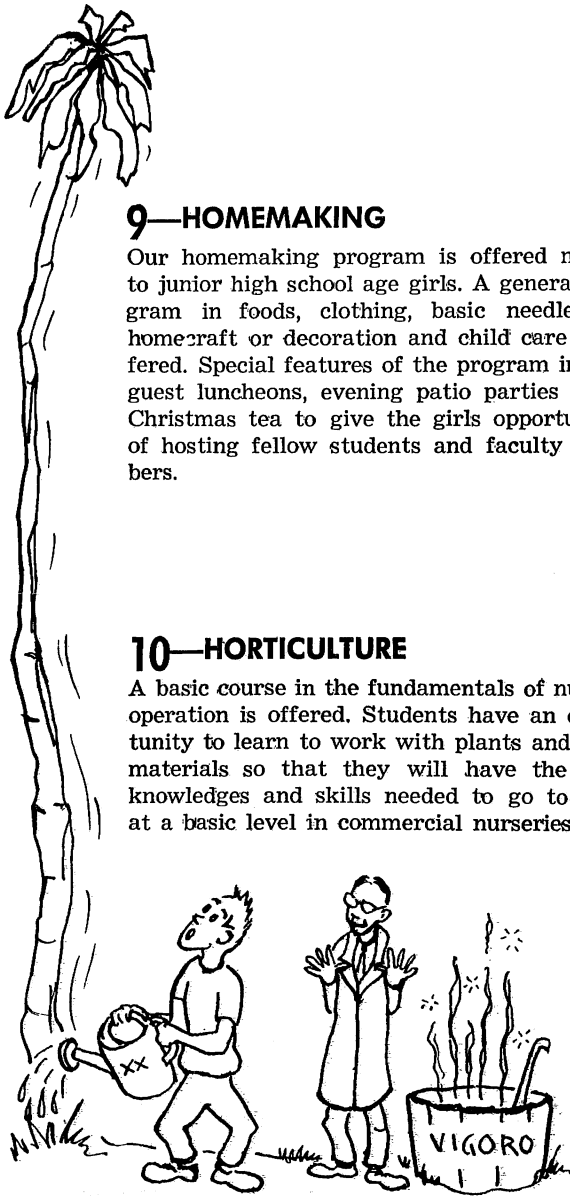

Our general shop program parallels the general industrial arts shop programs found in most public junior high schools. The intent of the program is to offer exploratory experiences in several industrial areas to serve as guidance material for the placement of boys in the more advanced shops.

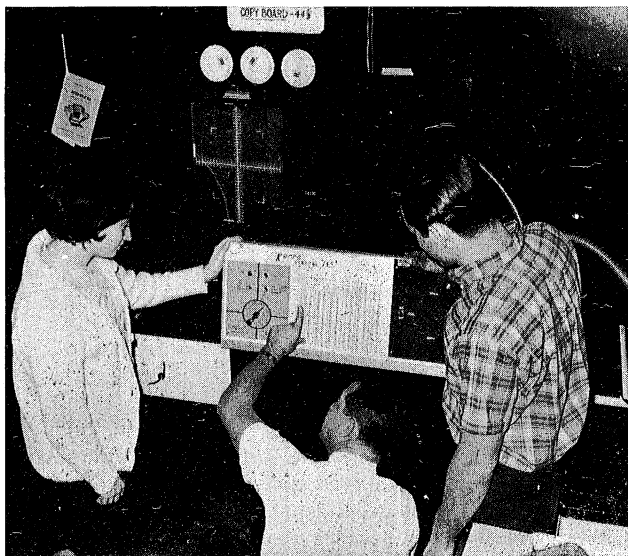

9—HOMEMAKING

Our homemaking program is offered mainly to junior high school age girls. A general program in foods, clothing, basic needlecraft, homecraft or decoration and child care is offered. Special features of the program include guest luncheons, evening patio parties and a Christmas tea to give the girls opportunities of hosting fellow students and faculty members.

10—HORTICULTURE

A basic course in the fundamentals of nursery operation is offered. Students have an opportunity to learn to work with plants and plant materials so that they will have the basic knowledges and skills needed to go to work at a basic level in commercial nurseries.

11—OFFSET LITHOGRAPHY

Instruction in offset lithography encompasses all four major phases of the trade—paste-up and stripping, camera reproduction, plate making and presswork. Students are instructed in the use of a Kenro Vertical Reproduction Camera in the picture.

12—POWER SEWING

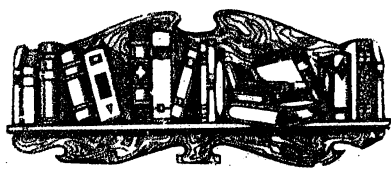

Our power sewing room provides instruction on single needle machines plus special purpose machines as button sewers, button hole makers, double needle machines and overlock machines. The skills acquired in the shop are sufficient to warrant placement in the power sewing industry at the beginning levels.

13—SPOTTING AND PRESSING

The spotting and pressing shop trains students in the basic and advanced skills of spotting and pressing with the objective that they may be employed in the industry after leaving CSDR. Training is acquired through work on the clothing of all the students in the school thus providing a service and training at the same time.

TITLE: The Red Balloon

AUTHOR: Albert Lamorisse

The story is about a boy who was named Pascal and lived in Paris. He had no sisters or brothers. He had a big magic balloon. It always obeyed him. The balloon followed him when he went to school. His teacher and his principal were very angry.

Pascal left school. He walked along a street and saw a picture. It was a girl with a hoop. He wished he could meet a nice girl just like the one in the picture. He played with her. She had a big blue balloon like his. Then he had to go home. Some bad boys saw Pascal's balloon. They stole it and ran away.

Pascal was very angry. The boys threw many stones at Pascal's balloon. Pascal was extremely sad. Many other balloons came to Pascal. He was very surprised. He flew away with them.

I liked it because it was a very interesting book.

TITLE: Mystery in the Pirate Oak

AUTHOR: Helen Fuller Orton

This story tells about Grandma Hale who always wanted to find a silver box that she lost 60 years ago. This book is fiction.

The name of the boy in the story was Chad and his sister's name was Ellie. They were lonesome and no one played with them so Chad collected stamps for his hobby. Ellie loved to read books. Their mother was always cleaning the house.

One day a lady moved to a house near Chad's. Chad and Ellie were very excited and ran to their house to tell their mother that they would have a new neighbor. Chad and Ellie tried to be friendly. They walked to the neighbor's house and saw a lady sitting on a rocking chair. They said "Hello, what is your name?" The lady said her name was Grandmother Hale. Grandma Hale told them a story about when she was a little girl. Chad and Ellie listened to her very carefully. She told them that she left a silver box in an oak tree 60 years ago. They went home.

Several days later there was a storm with lightning and thunder. The old oak tree fell to the ground. After the storm stopped, Chad ran to the old oak tree and there was the silver box. A stranger walked up and saw it. He grabbed it because the oak tree belonged to him. Chad told him the story about Grandma Hale. He didn't believe it. So both of them walked to Grandma Hale's house to show her the silver box and to see if it belonged to her. She was glad to see the silver box again. The stranger gave it back to her. She opened it and looked at her brother's picture. Her brother had died a long time ago. She was glad to see the picture again and a letter from him.

I think it was a very good story.

TITLE: A Girl Called Chris

AUTHOR: Marg Nelson

The day after her graduation from Central High, Chris was very upset because she had failed to get a Home Scholarship to Seahurst College.

Trying to overcome her disappointment, she went out to find a job. Jimmie was Chris' partner in chemistry class. He, too, was looking for a job. After searching throughout the classified ads, Chris tried out for a job at Swanson's Seafood.

One day Mr. Swanson invited all employees to a picnic. There Chris met Rod Peterson, who was a boy who worked under Mr. Swanson. Chris liked him and thought he was the nicest boy she had ever met. Rod was trying for Swanson's Scholarship.

All year Chris worked like a dog at Swanson's Seafood. At the end of the year, Mr. Swanson awarded two scholarships to Seahurst—one to Chris and one to Rod. Chris was very happy and said she would work for Mr. Swanson after her graduation. This was the happiest day of Chris' life. And it was the end of the story, too.

Reading this book, I got a better understanding of Chris and her motives. I felt she was brave to overcome her disappointment. She learned to live with it. Her hard work finally landed her a scholarship to Seahurst College.

A Thrilling Experience

October 28 was a big day for Riverside. The President of the United States came to town!

Each student of the Junior and Senior High Schools paid fifty cents for chartered bus fare to take us to the city to see President Johnson. There were three buses which made two trips to the Riverside County Court House grounds where the President made his speech. We were excited and impatient to see him. We arrived at the Court House at about 1:45 and we had to wait until 4:00 before President Johnson arrived from Los Angeles. While we waited in the big crowd of 50,000 we talked about the President and many other things; time went by fast.

Before President Johnson arrived, the invocation was said and the people sang the National Anthem. Then there appeared on the platform three of California's leaders; Governor Brown, Pierre Salinger and John Tunney. Each made a brief speech and then introduced the next speaker. Salinger introduced President Johnson and his wife, Lady Bird. When they appeared, all the people became excited and cheered. He spoke for half an hour and we had a good chance to see more than a glimpse of him.

Truly it was difficult to believe that we were looking at the President of the United States in person. It was a big thrill.

After the President's motorcade left town, we had to wait for the buses to make the return trip to school. It was 6:00 before we got back to school.

Many of us were worn out but it was worth all that just to see, in person, the man who holds the highest office in the United States. It was an experience we shall never forget.

Election Rally

Monday evening, November 2, some Junior High School and all High School students assembled in the Social Hall for an election rally. Many students carried signs, posters, or pictures of Senator Goldwater or President Johnson. Almost all the students were wild and yelled for their man after each speech. We had a debate program. Four Republicans and four Democrats were speakers and each had a Democrat or Republican for rebuttal. Each speaker had two minutes and there was one minute for rebuttal. The topics were as follows:

Federal Budget

Foreign Aid

Peace and Risk of War

Federal and Local Relationships

Medical Care for the Aged

Space

There were also Goldwater and Johnson girls who danced.

We learned much about politics this way and we enjoyed it very much.

Changing Government in Russia

Nikita Khrushchev was ousted from his office and replaced by two men instead of one. Leonid I. Brezhnev is party chief and Alexei Kosygin is Soviet premier. For a long time Nikita Khrushchev had been both party chief and premier. He had great power and controlled the policies of that great nation. Now he is powerless.

It is said that these two men will follow Nikita's plans. They have told the United States that they are seeking peaceful co-existence and want to relieve world tension.

Who can predict what this change of government means?

Only time will tell what the result will be.

Senior Pictures

The Senior boys and girls went to the Jack Ingham Studio on Tuesday, October 13. We had our pictures taken. Some teachers took us to the studio. We will get our pictures in two weeks. All of us hope they will be nice pictures.

Our Visitor from England

On October 5, Mr. Lumsden came to our school for a visit. He observed different classes in our school. He came from England. He stayed at our school for several days. All the High School and some of the Junior High School students went to Social Hall to hear Mr. Lumsden. He spoke to us about the schools for the deaf in England. In some ways their schools are different from ours. We asked many questions. Miss Lewis and Mrs. Bradshaw interpreted.

The Minimum Day Schedule

We have followed the Minimum Day schedule twice. We have the fast schedule when we have our home football games. We have this schedule so that the football boys will not miss so much school. The periods are forty minutes long. We have six periods before lunch. School is dismissed at 2:55. I was a little confused at first, but I like this schedule.

Our Boy Scout Camping Trip

On October 17 we Boy Scouts went to San Clemente State Park. We stayed overnight. We went on a hike and went swimming in the ocean. I borrowed an air mattress. The waves came fast to the shore. It was fun to ride the waves. One time a big wave pushed me down and I hit my head. It scared me. I saw a seal about one half mile away from the shore. That night the teachers told me that they could hear the seals barking. I had a good time. The next camping trip will be in the desert.

Voting

Mrs. Steigerwald explained to our class how to vote for a president. Our class understood what she said. We practiced filling in the registration form. On our mock election day we gave the forms to the boys who acted as registrars. We marked our choices on the ballots.

Spooky Dance

On October 24, we, the members of Student Body Organization, had a Spooky Dance in the Social Hall at 7:30. The Social Hall was partly decorated as a cemetery with many bats all around. Rodney Nunn did the jack-o-lanterns. We were dressed in costumes. Some of the members were dressed as monsters and we could not guess who they were. The costume judges were Mrs. Steigerwald, Mr. Garcia, and Mr. Christiansen. The prizes were given to Burton Quartermus for the weirdest, Genaro Abenchuchan for the funniest, and Mike Cardinale and David Simpson for originality. Those on the dance committee were Keith Gamache, Janet Quane, and Jack Lamberton. We had several dances and games before the skit. The honor skit was given by Burton Quartermus, Karen Kleiman, Connie Paine, Howard Sultan, Gregory Decker, and Harvey Bradley. After it was over the refreshment committee served orange punch, vanilla ice cream, cupcakes with a brown owl on the top of orange frosting, candy, and nuts. Those on committees were Carol Williams, Judith Joiner, Connie Paine, Alice Sargent, Margaret Rose, and Laura Dinndorf. Burton Quartermus showed us two horror movies. They were very good but scary. We had a broom game. A girl sat on a broom and a boy pulled the broom around the Social Hall. We had a few more dances before we went back to the dorm. We had a great time. Thanks to Gregory Decker, the boys' social chairman and Connie Paine, the girls' social chairman.

FOOTBALL

The 1964 CSDR football team must be rated as one of the best ever produced at our school in its young sports history. However, three successive losses at the end of the season ended any hopes the Cubs might have had for a very successful season.

In the opening game, a non-league affair with powerful Webb Academy, the CSDR eleven showed that they had a good offense but were weak in defensive play especially against passes. Coach Lanzi was pleased with the first game performance of the team in spite of the 28 to 12 loss.

The Cubs looked very good against their second opponent, Eagle Mountain. The offense rolled up a big 26 to 0 lead by the first half and during the second half some of the second string had an opportunity to play. The final score in this non-league game was 33 to 0.

Our league opener was played at Boys' Republic and our students missed seeing a fine hard fought victory by their team. Halfbacks Jerry Moore and David Cisneros led by quarterback Harvey Bradley showed a good running and passing attack. Our linemen held the Republic offense in check but allowed them three touchdowns. By winning 37 to 20 CSDR moved into a tie for first place in the league.

The night before the first home league game CSDR had its annual bonfire and pep rally. Our great success against Big Bear the next day prompted our superintendent to suggest that maybe we should hold a bonfire before each game. In this one-sided game our backs made long gains time and time again, while our linemen broke through to hand Big Bear big losses on many plays. Even the subs had a field day against Big Bear. The score was 46 to 6 which were the most points ever scored in a single game by a CSDR team.

Undefeated thus far in league play the Cubs next faced a good Twin Pines team. The game was billed as a scoring duel between CSDR's Moore and Twin Pine's Gipson. CSDR remained undefeated as Cisneros and Moore were able to break away while our line held Gipson in check. The final score of 13 to 6 indicated the closeness of the game which could have gone either way.

With high hopes the Cubs received a rousing sendoff as they went to Lake Arrowhead to face an undefeated Rim of the World team. Rim's big line was able to stop the Cub's running attack while their passing made shambles of our defense. A thoroughly defeated CSDR team returned home after the 33 to 7 defeat had knocked them out of a first place tie in the league.

CSDR next had to face another undefeated eleven from Aquinas. Although we had never beaten Aquinas the Cubs hoped this would be the first time. A quick Aquinas touchdown and a blocked punt for another quickly indicated that all was not going well for the Cubs. Although we did score, Aquinas again proved to be too powerful for CSDR beating us 19 to 6.

The two defeats coupled with Notre Dame's desire to win a homecoming game led to disaster for the Cubs in their final game. Notre Dame played their best game of the season, outplaying CSDR in running, passing and defensive play. By winning 34 to 7 Notre Dame was able to tie CSDR for third place in the league standings.

CSDR will lose the services of some fine players this year. Joe Ferraz and Craig Fenton have been outstanding linemen again this year and will graduate in the spring. Also graduating this year will be Stephen Strange and Leroy Harper, two fine players. Harvey Bradley and Tony Hackett are completing their last year of eligibility. These boys will be missed but we hope we can fill their shoes from the ranks of this year's "B" team.

Credit must go to those hard working linemen who do the tough hard work but seldom get any recognition. Jack Lamberton, Mike Mahoney, Charles Idell, Bryce Brewster, Tony Hackett, Greg Wilson, Robert Pealatore and Tommy Parker were the boys who were work horses and paved the ways for the backs and held our opponents in check.

BASKETBALL

Coach Barber reports a large turnout of hopeful candidates for the basketball team this year. All of last year's varsity team will be back as well as some members of last year's "B" team. With a squad of veterans including four six footers and several fast break men, it would seem that we should have a better season than in the past few years. League play will be very competitive as usual, but we would like most of all to recover the basketball trophies that we lost to Berkeley and Arizona Schools for the Deaf.

Girls' Volleyball Team Undefeated

CSDR's two volleyball teams in the Riverside girl's league are undefeated this year. The Junior team has already won the league championship by defeating all the other teams in the league. The scores:

CSDR—3 Sierra Eaglets—0
CSDR—3 Alessandro 7th grade—0
CSDR—2 Alessandro Braves—1
CSDR—3 Sierra Eaglets #1—0
CSDR—3 Alessandro 8th Grade—0
CSDR—3 Hits and Misses—0

The Intermediate team with 2 more games to play has yet to lose a game and they are favored to be league champs again this year. Our volleyball teams have been city champions for the past five years and we hope to retain the championship this year. The intermediate scores are as follows:

CSDR—3 Bits and Pieces—0
CSDR—3 Golden Netters—0
CSDR—3 Tight Nets—0
CSDR—3 Wilsons—0
CSDR vs Hitten Misses
CSDR vs Vikings
CSDR vs Mackers

Wrestlers Win Opener

In their opening non-league meet, the CSDR wrestlers came from behind to win, 21-18, over Rubidoux High School grapplers. Larry Cook, Everett Campbell, and Richard Hastings did very well in their very first meet; Robert Pealatore also won his first fall when he pinned his opponent in 1:16. Other winners were Jeff Jones, John Lux, Mike Cardinale and Craig Fenton.

Palomar I

If you find buttons around the campus, they belong to us. We are so proud of our football team this year that we popped the buttons off our shirts.

We had a great time at the High School dance and enjoyed the unusual costumes. We are now planning our dormitory Christmas party and hope to make it a Christmas that we will all remember.

Palomar III

Monday evening, October 26, Palomar III conducted an election for residence hall officers. It is a great honor as well as responsibility to be elected to this council. The purpose of it is to bring about better understanding between the boys and their counselors. Any correctional measures that have to be taken will be reviewed by the council and the counselors to determine what action should be taken.

The council consists of a chairman who is selected by the counselors and three councilman who are elected by student vote. Danny Cisneros is the appointed chairman. Officers elected to the council are: Tom Green, Harry Williams, and Steve Sclaro.

An interesting guidance meeting was held recently with the girls from Shasta III. The topic for the girls was "Dating." Lily Miller talked on "What Girls Like to See in a Boy on a Date." Tom Green spoke of "How Boys Should Act on a Date."

Lassen II

Lassen II boys had a combined Halloween and birthday party. John Tracey, Todd

Brown, Mike Butterfield, Harvin Driver, and Mike Miller all have October birthdays.

We are running two competitions this month in our dormitory. The boys are competing for best kept room and for best-decorated notice boards. They are using Halloween as the theme and all are making valiant efforts to win one or the other of the prizes offered. Judging will be difficult.

Palomar II

The boys of Palomar 2 were thrilled to have the privilege of going to Riverside Court House to hear President Johnson speak on October 28. There were mixed emotions among all of us. We could hardly believe that the President himself was speaking to us.

Scoutmaster Tommy Parker with 30 boy scouts went to San Clemente Beach for an all night outing two weeks ago. They had lots of fun. Some of them got very sunburned.

Rubidoux III

Accidents kept two of our girls home part of the time this last month. Dianne Elkins broke her arm on the playground. Her cast has many interesting signatures. Shirley Adams fell through a window at home cutting one arm and a finger.

Letters brought exciting news to two of our girls. Chris Buchholz received word of a new nephew. Charleen Biessener has new twin nieces.

Several girls entertained friends on weekends. Gayle Bena went home with Laura Escobar. Daisy Slagle had Barbara Torres as her guest. Sharon Frazier took Hazel Mosley home to Los Angeles with her, but changed many of their plans by coming down with the mumps.

The Ticktockers came on Thursday evening, October 29, and gave a party for the girls of our dormitory. We enjoyed the games and the refreshments.

Pachappa I

The mumps have finally come to Pachappa I. Mike Selby was the first to have them. Terry Robertson, Randy Vaughn and Ricardo Gastelum have had the mumps also.

Mrs. Button and her group of Ticktockers gave a party for the Pachappa I boys. Everyone had fun.

Paul De La Cruz has a little quail for a pet. He brought it to school so the other students could see it.

Pachappa II

On October 29, the Eighth Grade Ticktockers came to Pachappa II and gave the boys a Halloween party. They played cat and mouse, and had a relay race with a walnut on a paper plate. Each boy received a container of popcorn with a prize.

On October 17, Mr. Newton and Mrs. Butcher took seven boys to the Hobby Show at the Municipal Auditorium. They were Kenny Lokey, Clarence Wiley, Steven Kelley, Roger Lewis, Jimmy Hanna, David Price, and Maurice Abenchuchan.

Pachappa III

Christy Selby went for an airplane ride with her father.

Teri Loreman's father went to Okinawa in an airplane.

Diann Lagan went horseback riding with friends.

Paula Collette has a baby calf.

Dawn Payton brought a baby frog to school.

Shasta I

Several Shasta I girls were weekend house guests of other girls in the dormitory whose homes were in or close to Pomona, enabling them all to have an outing and an enjoyable visit to the Los Angeles County fair. Among those sharing their homes with friends were: Susan Bell, Nancy Sanders, Juddie Joiner, Margaret Rose, Karen Rowenhorst and a former student, Froetter Nelson. Their guests were: Carole Williams, Barbara Miller, Evelyn Brown, Nancy Burrell, Linda Briones, and Jewel DeWitty.

Karen Kleiman flew to Las Vegas for a weekend visit. She had an enjoyable time there last summer when she had her picture taken with Mitch Miller and autographed by him.

Shasta II

Sharon Fickett was very pleased to see her father again when he returned from his trip to the Far East. He is a Lieutenant in the U.S. Navy. His boat sailed to Hawaii, Japan and South Vietnam.

Florence Lulejian is a new girl in our dormitory. She attended Birmingham High school in Van Nuys and knows many students who attended that school before coming here.

Shasta III

Shasta III has a new student council organization. The purpose of the organization is to assist the counselors in planning dormitory activities. They will also assume some of the minor responsibilities such as time schedules. They will help the counselors make dormitory life more interesting. Lily Miller, Kathy Carlsen, Jeanne Buller, Mary Ann Rose, Gene Fisher and Linda Parker were the girls selected as members of the student council.

Shasta IV

Several girls have been invited to visit over the Halloween weekend. Becky Cahal will be at Vicki Manchester's; Melinda Moore will visit Diane Degrolice; and Kathy Powell is bringing Jan Garey to her home. We hope that the spooks don't get these girls.

Irma Gonzales spent three months this past summer in Mexico with her grandparents. She reported that temperatures were between 110 and 115, but she did not mind because she helped them make ice cream to sell. Her favorite is lemon.

Rubidoux I

On Thursday October 29, Mrs. Smith and the 7th grade group of Ticktockers gave a Halloween party for the Rubidoux I boys. The boys who won prizes for different games and contests were Jimmy Baer, Scott Karsh, Ricky Pringle, Ricky Gary, Steven Longo, Steven Davick and Rodney Mc Brearty.

Mark Sultan visited Randy Biell who lives in Pomona. The boys had a wonderful time with Randy's parents visiting the Los Angeles Fair.

Ricky Cringle received a letter and a card from his parents who were visiting in Vancouver, B.C. They told Ricky they had rides on three airplanes to reach Vancouver.

Rubidoux I boys have shown a lot of interest in decorating their rooms for different occasions. Arthur Eyrich, Steven Ross, Mike Camphos, Steven Anderson, Mark Sultan, Eddie Dudley, Verne Carlton and Randy Biell have had the best rooms for both decorations and neatness.

Rubidoux II

Linda Wilson is a new girl in Rubidoux II. She is eleven years old. She attended school in Honolulu, and also went to Kendall School in Washington, D.C. Linda lives in Oxnard.

Rubidoux II celebrated three birthdays in October. Estela Lugo was ten years old on October 7. Mary Ann Epstein was ten on October 22. Pamela Robinson was ten years old on October 29.

Rubidoux II girls who now go home on the bus are: Pamela Amundsen, Roxanna Clemons, Kathy Dominique, Mary Ann Epstein, Beth Feria, Lorraine Gonzales, Janet Harbert, Sylvia Loera, Cathy Ortega, Germaine Pico, Debbie Royse, Janice Sickinger, and Becky Wingfield.

President Johnson's Visit to Riverside

Wednesday, October 28, was a big day for us. We were allowed the great honor of seeing President Johnson who came to Riverside to give a campaign speech.

We got on the bus to go downtown at 1:45. We went to the front lawn of the Riverside County Courthouse where President Johnson was to speak from a platform on the steps of the courthouse. We waited a long time for the Chief Executive. He flew from Los Angeles to March Air Force Base. He rode in a motorcade to the downtown area to the courthouse. There was an extremely large crowd on hand to greet him.

First, Phil Regan, former entertainer who resides in Palm Springs, sang the National Anthem. Governor Pat Brown addressed the crowd, followed by John Tunney and Pierre Salinger. Tunney and Salinger gave short speeches, preceding the President's talk. Finally, President Johnson and his wife, Lady Bird, walked out and waved to the crowd.

President Johnson gave a very good speech. When he finished talking, he and his wife went to San Bernardino to deliver another speech.

I will never forget that exciting event.

Voter Registration

All of the High School students registered to vote in our mock elections. When we helped the students register we wrote their party choice; Democratic or Republican. Some of the boys and girls hoped that the Democrats would win and others hoped that Republicans would win. Some of the teachers counted the number of registered voters and the Democrats had the most.
